UMUEGBONU UMUNNA UNION NOMEH- NATIONAL SECRETARIAT TRIBUTE / CONDOLENCE MESSAGE

The entire Umuegbonu family received with deep sense of loss the sad news of the passing of our dearly beloved brother, uncle and father, Late Elder Chief Denis Okeke Ani-(OZUO-OMEE). The shocking waves of the sad news was devastating, debilitating and invariably has created a dismal void in entire family of Umuegbonu.

It is undoubtedly that the loss is a very grave one to the immediate family and entire Umuegbonu family going by the shared memories over the years, especially close ones.

It is understandably, both the immediate and extended families have lost what one would aptly described as an archive / library that housed both old and current information during his time.

Late OZUO-OMEE was a socialite, historian and a renowned Christian. During his time his Christian life did not alienate him from genuine and positive aspects of culture and traditions. He is a man with broad heart, very accommodating and ever ready to give unadulterated advice and encouragement when approached by anyone.

We would have wished him to live longer, considering the extent of his impact on humanities in the course of his selfless service, especially those who came across him. He was a motivator and galvanizer in the face of challenges.

Undoubtedly, it is a grave loss to us all, given the fond memories we shared over the years.

We however, encourage you and the entire family to take solace in the fact that he lived a worthy life of selfless service to his children and humanities at large. The legacies he left behind will always speak volume as he be remembered in the sand of time, having sterling offspring like you to keep his memory afloat in the pages of history.

On behalf of Umuegbonu family therefore, the union commiserate with you and the entire family of yours. We share in your grieve and pains over the sad loss and also in your joy over a life well spent. We also join you in prayers for the peaceful repose of his gentle soul.

While wishing you more grace and fortitude to bear the irreplaceable lose; accept our sincere heartfelt condolences and highest regards always.
